

DC Action Starts 2021 Strong For Kids and Families

January 1 - April 30, 2021

"As leaders in public policy and advocacy on behalf of children and youth, we pledge our continued commitment to use data-driven analysis and the lived experience of parents and young people to inform the creation of policies and programs that break down structural barriers to allow every young person to reach their full potential."

– Kimberly Perry, Executive Director

Executive Branch Visits

40

Met with cabinet and agency leaders under the Office of the Mayor

Legislative Branch Visits

51

Met with DC Council members and their staff

Testimony

96

Testified and facilitated resident testimony at DC Council hearings

Town Halls

14

Organized virtual public spaces for residents and groups to share concerns

Publications

33

Wrote reports, briefs, fact sheets, and advocacy letters

Media Coverage

12

Worked with reporters and editors to publish articles and op-eds

Blog Posts

26

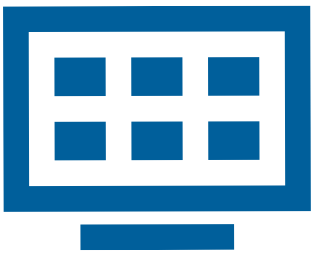

Wrote and edited up-to-date information and perspectives from staff and partners

Toolkits

13

Published useful resources for community members and partners

Coalition Meetings

99

Facilitated meetings of the Home Visiting Council, DC OST Coalition, Under 3 DC, Youth Homelessness Advocacy Coalition

Updated Indicators of Child and Youth Wellbeing

595

Analyzed and reported on the best available ward-level data on demographics, economic justice, education, early childhood, health and safety, voting and democracy

Staff and Consultant Experts

20

Created an effective team of experts to work together for children and youth

Investors

48

Partnered with individual and institutional investors to fund our work

One voice. One future

Learn more at: www.wearedcaction.org